Harnessing The Sun

Ever since the first cave man carried home a piece of burning wood snatched from a forest fire, mankind has utilized the energy of the sun in indirect ways. Indeed, modern civilization has been built entirely upon the unlocked power of the fossil fuels—coal and oil.

These fuels have been so plentiful that men have scarcely attempted to tap the sun directly. Pictures of houses heated and lighted by the sun appear in the tabloids occasionally and solar cells have become an indispensable source of power for earth satellites, yet the potentialities of solar energy remain a virtually unexplored domain.

To be sure, atomic energy undoubtedly will supplant the fossil fuels to an increasing extent in years to come. Large-scale use of the sun may never become a necessity for advanced nations.

For a large part of the world, however, the sun may provide the means to make the difficult crossing from a society based on muscle power to one based on machines.

One answer may be found in a little metal box which, unlike Pandora's, could free humanity from many of its woes.

This is the thermoelectric generator, a simple device which converts heat directly into electricity. Coupled with a solar reflector, it could provide a cheap, maintenance-free power source for a multitude of tasks that are still being accomplished by the sweat of men and animals.

Engineers at Westinghouse have built a prototype which delivers 50 watts, enough to run a water pump. A larger unit of 200 watts could draw water from a depth of 20 feet and irrigate four acres of land, or supply the personal needs of 1,200 people—a good-sized village. Next would come electric lighting and mechanization of village industries.

Reporting on the idea at a United Nations conference on New Sources of Energy at Rome, senior engineer Kurt Katz stressed that the simplicity of the generator would make it ideal for areas with low levels of technical experience.

Another device exhibited at the U.N. meeting is a piston engine, built by Batelle Memorial Institute, using a combination of sun and air for power. Its virtues are also its low cost and simplicity.

The sun's rays are focused by a mirror through a quartz dome on top of the cylinder to heat the air inside. The expanding air forces the piston down to turn the crankshaft.

When it is recalled that most of the so-called underdeveloped countries lie in zones of abundant sunshine, the potential liberation of human energy from age-old drudgery is an exciting prospect. The harnessing of the sun could bring about this liberation in a sudden and dramatic fashion.

Job Well Done—

A well-worn test stand used for the static-firing of rocket engines was recently retired from duty at George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

This would hardly be news except for the fact that the stand, built from salvaged scraps of metal in 1953, was originally meant for only one firing.

It was actually used 361 times.

The rockets which put up this country's first satellite and boosted astronauts Shepard and Grissom into space were first proved out on this stand.

The structure won't be torn down, however. Like many other veterans, it has joined the ready reserves on the chance it may be needed again.

Algebra Helpful For Housewives When Rounding Up Family Food

By JOY STILLEY
(Subbing for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Every housewife needs a purse-size electronic computer, to take to the supermarket along with the grocery list.

Falling this, she should at least have a master's degree in higher mathematics if she hopes to make her money go to its stretchiest limits.

Arranged on the shelves are cans, packages and boxes in all sizes from wee tiny ones, through middle-sized ones and on up to great big ones. And it's up to Mamma Bear to decide just which one will provide most dinner for her dollar.

For instance, two packages of cheese sit chummy side by side. But Mamma's frugal eye notes that one is 29 cents and the other 35 cents.

"Six pennies saved is six pennies earned," she mutters happily to herself as she tosses the cheaper one into her basket.

But it's not that easy. The two brands look just alike but there may be more to this than meets the eye. How about seeing if they weigh the same, a thrifty inner voice cautions.

Aha! Just as she thought. The 29-cent package contains six ounces, but the 35-cent kind boasts a full eight ounces.

Now poor Mamma, long since having forgotten her multiplication tables, to say nothing of her division tables, must somehow figure out which is the better buy.

By adding 29 to 35, multiplying by 16 and dividing by the number of holes in the cheese, she comes out with a headache—and a four-ounce can of grated cheese.

Everything comes in the large economy-size tube, jar, box, can, package or bottle nowadays. But by a lot of fancy figuring a math-minded shopper often discovers it's more economical to buy two of the uneconomical sizes than one of the economy sizes.

Cans are the biggest problem. These require a special algebraic formula to arrive at the price per ounce of avoidpulp.

If A equals the No. 303 can and B equals the buffet-size can, and C equals the No. 2 can, this formula will tell you the price per ounce of avoidpulp.

Alliance for Progress Will Need Time to Get Up Steam

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The draft of a "Declaration of Montevideo" prepared by the United States was completely rewritten by the Inter-American conference of finance ministers just concluded at Punta Del Este, Uruguay.

Two documents emerged. The first is to be known as "The Charter of Punta Del Este," a 1,200-word statement of high-minded principles and noble objectives put out as a major public relations effort to sell the alliance to the Latin-American people.

It is a kind of international declaration in independence from the wicked ways of the past and a promise to do better in the new Alliance for Progress.

The second, to be called "The Accord of Montevideo," is a kind of constitution of 8,000 words that sets up a working organization and plan of operation.

Most of the specifications in the U.S. draft declaration are included in the accord finally signed by all the ministers except Cuba's Ernesto "Che" Guevara. He took a dim view of the proceedings on grounds that, "Never in history have the rich come to the aid of the poor."

There are a lot of new gimmicks in the accord which will require further explanation by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and his staff of 40 negotiators. Some recommendations—like the commodity stabilization plan—put in to satisfy the Latinos, simply aren't going to work.

Neither the charter nor the accord will have to be ratified as treaties by the U.S. Senate. Both are declarations of intent by a subsidiary of the Organization of American States, of which the U.S. is a member.

The U.S. will be the principal money supplier for the alliance. But it is maintained that ample safeguards have been built into the two new documents.

The purse strings on U.S. dollars will be controlled by the United States. The Latin-American countries will be required to submit workable development plans with projects begun and completed in proper priorities.

They must make self-help contributions, and will be required to reform their tax and land laws. U.S. dollars will be released only as they perform under the new charter and accord, and the Act of Bogota which started all this.

A figure of $20 billion U.S. aid over the next 10 years was kicked around rather loosely. The explanation given in Washington: this is not new money which will have to be appropriated by Congress. It is a projection of the current $2 billion annual aid to Latin America from all sources, over the next 10 years.

Though half comes from established U.S. government agencies—Export-Import loans, Development Loan Fund, regular foreign aid appropriations, the $500 million social development fund appro-riated by Congress for this year, and U.S. private investments.

The other half comes from other nations and international organizations such as the World Bank, International Development Corporation, European Development Assistance Group, U.N. and Organization of American States technical assistance programs.

This is not enough to take care of all needs by a long shot. It is conceded that additional American aid of one kind and another will be required.

But it is also recognized that it will be difficult to get another $500 million a year out of Congress for social development loans over the next 10 years.

None of this money has been spent so far this year and none is likely to be spent, because the Latin-American countries have no acceptable plans for using it, and don't know how to go about applying for it. A full year may be required to make the alliance a going concern.

NEXT: How the alliance proposes to organize.

Be strong and of good courage. Do not be afraid or dismayed before the king of Assyria and all the horde that is with him; for there is one greater with us than with him.—II Chron. 32:7.

In the long run you will find that God's promise is in favor of those that keep His laws, and against those that break them.—Henry Ward Beecher.

THE MATURE PARENT
Relative Certainty Strikes Balance for Living
MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the last of three articles which will appear during her absence taken from "The Quest for Certainty" by Drs. Emanuel K. Schwartz and Alexander Wolf. The material first appeared in the January 1959 issue of the AMA Archives of Neurology and Psychiatry. (Reprinted with the permission of the authors and publisher.)

(EXCERPT 2 FROM "THE QUEST FOR CERTAINTY" BY DR. EMANUEL K. SCHWARTZ AND ALEXANDER WOLF)

The therapeutic implication then is how to get the patient to accept RELATIVE CERTAINTY in place of the illusion of absolute certainty or the chaos of absolute uncertainty.

There is the patient who feels that certainty lies in inactivity, in not doing, because all activity will come to nothing.

This can be a consequence of a familial experience in which the mother was always critical of any activity. The result is the cynical adult who does nothing and cares little about what the other person does.

There is also the one-sided person who finds that certainty can only be achieved through KNOWING—to him only knowing is certain. Neither feeling nor doing is important.

On the other hand, there are those who feel that only FEELING is certain; and that knowing, reason, intelligence, thinking and doing only lead to uncertainty; and they therefore avoid these other forms of activity.

There are those who feel that in the doing there is uncertainty; and therefore, limiting themselves to thinking and reflecting, become obsessive thinkers or feelers. The need to be smart, to be liked or to be right fits into this concept.

Many people in their quest for certainty or in dealing with their own uncertainties seek confirmation from peers or from authority figures.

We want to mention that conformity in anything, in friends, clothes, sexuality, relatedness and society is related to the quest for certainty in a confirmation of the self and a denial of difference. Only in conformity can there be some certainty in oneself. There are those who then also seek to develop a conforming environment for themselves as well as for others.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There they were, the whole Hitler gang—Goering, Goebbels, Himmler, Streicher, Bormann, Strasser, Jodl, Keitel and Adolph himself with girl friend Eva Braun.

The gruesome bunch was held up in Der Fuehrer's Berchtesgaden aerie overlooking the Bavarian Alps. They were once again plotting new conquests as Hollywood was preparing to cash in on the revival of interest in the Nazi chapter of world misery.

Allied Artists is making a film called "Hitler." Notably missing from the cast is Rudolph Hess. He is still alive and hence might sue for invasion of privacy. The film company is taking a chance on the missing Martin Bormann. In fact, the studio would be happy if he turned up to file suit.

The film's Hitler is Richard Basehart, and the transformation is amazing. I found him sitting in a corner of the set, as if shunned by his fellow men. Actually, he was saving his voice.

"This is the toughest role I've ever had," he croaked hoarsely. "I'm shouting at the top of my voice most of the time, even when I'm making love."

Love, or lack of it, plays a major role in the film, Basehart disclosed.

"We'll show the major events of Hitler's life, from the beer hall putsch in the early '20s to his death with Eva Braun in 1945," the actor said. "But the major aim of the picture will be to show what kind of a man he was."

And what kind of a man was he?

"Apparently a very mixed-up man with megalomania, an Oedipus complex and all kinds of problems," said Basehart.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This whole Berlin crisis has now become a game of tit for tat—with both sides playing it, the United States as well as the Soviet Union—although it's like playing hockey with a dynamite cap.

Both sides talk of reaching a peaceful settlement. Neither attempts a move to start it. And meanwhile both tighten the crisis.

The Communists seal off East Berlin to keep non-Communist East Germans from escaping to West Berlin. The United States won't interfere but it sends 1,500 troops into West Berlin, not for any practical purpose but as a gesture.

The Reds retaliate by making it harder for Westerners to cross into East Berlin. The United States, Britain and France rush troops and tanks to the barricades. They are not going to do anything either.

So troops on both sides glare at each other over the barricade while the last thing any of them wants is shooting.

The latest move: A Moscow note to Washington accusing the United States of fanning spies and saboteurs into Berlin.

Talk Started It All

As usual, the whole crisis started with talk.

Premier Khrushchev began by repeated warnings early in 1961 that he would sign a peace treaty with the East German Communists, a move the Allies interpret as the first in a series to shut them off from West Berlin altogether.

Then on June 3-4 in his Vienna talks with President Kennedy, he set a six-month deadline for signing the treaty and making Berlin a "free city." The West can't stop him from signing the treaty but it could fight to stay in Berlin.

By June 28 Khrushchev had made four speeches, repeating his warning and accusing the West of building up Berlin tensions. On June 28 at a news conference Kennedy said Khrushchev was building up tensions.

Khrushchev threw another coal on the fire July 8 when he ordered a 25 per cent increase in Soviet defense spending. And Kennedy replied in kind July 25 in his TV talk to the nation when he announced a buildup in American defenses and pledged American support of West Berlin.

The Great Exodus

East Germans have been fleeing from Communist East Germany into West Berlin at the rate of 1,000 a day but Khrushchev's beligerent talk scared them into crossing over at the rate of 2,000 a day.

This was a reaction Khrushchev could neither have expected nor wanted since the Communist regime in East Germany badly needed the manpower which was dashed westward.

So on Aug. 13 the Communists sent troops and tanks to the edges of East Berlin, sealed off all the escape hatches for the East Germans but still let visitors from West Berlin move into East Berlin.

Neither the United States nor any of the other Allies was willing to do anything to force the East German Communists to open the hatches again since that would probably mean war. So all the Allies did was stand by and protest.

West Berlin lies not in West Germany but 110 miles inside East Germany and people and supplies bound for the city can't get through from the West unless the East German Communists let them through.

Nevertheless German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, running for reelection, talked ominously of wanting trade between the two Germanys shut off. He dropped that kind of talk when the East Germans warned, if he tried it, to blockade Berlin altogether.

Brandt Demanded Action

But the West Berliners and their mayor, Willy Brandt, who's running against Adenauer, got exasperated by the willingness of the Allies to protest and do nothing. They wanted action.

So Kennedy sent Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson over in a hurry to cheer them up. This seemed to do although he added nothing new when he pledged the United States to defend West Berlin. Kennedy himself had done that weeks before.

Kennedy also took 1,500 American troops out of their regular defense positions in West Germany and sent them into West Berlin. The Soviets let them travel through East Germany to get to the city since, to stop them, might have meant war.

But the troops, while the sight of them may have boosted West Berlin morale, added nothing to the defense of the city. They're in a box in West Germany since there are about 400,000 East German and Soviet troops surrounding West Berlin in East Germany.

Then Adenauer visited the city. This, on top of the Johnson visit, irritated the Communists and they retaliated by tightening restrictions on Westerners, including troops and diplomats, who might want to go from West Berlin into East Berlin.

Not to be outdone the United States, Britain and France sent troops and tanks to the barricades now separating East and West Berlin for no apparent reason—since neither side wants war—unless to glare at the Communist troops on the other side.

And Wednesday Johnson reportedly recommended a buildup of U.S. military equipment in West Berlin, although he was reported convinced that the situation there is extremely explosive with tension running so high minor incident could touch off a major clash.

Togetherness Isn't Always Best for Your Husband

Did you happen to read what Vice Adm. Hyman C. Rickover had to say about the young men being graduated from the United States Naval Academy these days?

Among other things, he told a subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations: "A more serious defect even than this deficiency in scholarship is the attitude a midshipman acquires at the Naval Academy. Once he graduates, he will, in nine cases out of 10, stop thinking and studying. I see this clearly when I talk with young officers, and I have talked to thousands of them."

"Once they get out, their mental growth comes to an end. They putter around the house, repair cars and build furniture; they do little to improve themselves. They become 'nest builders' and 'bird watchers.' This is the thing we have to change. . . ."

Admiral Rickover's criticism of young Naval officers who quit learning and start puttering once they are out of school could just as well be leveled at any other group of young married men. What he is implying is that they are so engrossed in "togetherness" that they are losing their drive, their ambition, their intellectual curiosity and their opportunity to excel as men in a man's world.

Today's young wives are largely to blame for it. They would rather have togetherness today than future success for their husbands. What they aren't interested in sharing, they don't want their husbands to have. They don't want to be helpmates standing behind their husbands, willing to let them have interests of their own. They want to stand alone at their side.

"This is the thing we have to change," say the admirals. But how is it going to be changed except through the training of the young men's wives?

It is the wife who can insist on "togetherness" as a way of life or who can say to her husband, "You go on about your business, and leave the job of homemaking to me."

Missing Child Found After 6-Hour Search

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — A 16-month-old boy missing since noon Thursday was found in a pasture sleeping in a pile of leaves after scores of volunteers searched for six hours Thursday.

Ronald Lee Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston, was found at dusk a half-mile west of his home in Tuka.

Searchers hunted through dense woods surrounding the rural home and dragged a pond near the house. The boy disappeared from the home when the family went out to push their car which had stalled.

Results Of Morgan County Wheat Vote

A total of 246 ballots were cast Thursday in the 1961 wheat quota referendum. Of these ballots 180 were yes votes, 45 no votes, and 21 were challenged votes to be passed upon Friday afternoon by the county A. S. C. committee.

Thursday's vote in the seven precincts was much heavier than last year when only 122 votes were cast. The decision Thursday was whether wheat quotas and price supports would be set up for next year. In Morgan County there was little question about how wheat growers felt.

When Jack Dempsey fought Georges Carpentier in Jersey City in 1921 for the world's heavyweight title the motion picture rights sold for $4,000.

Many Give Memorial Books To Winchester Library

By Dorothy Sauer (Winchester Correspondent)

WINCHESTER — A tourist recently said, "My good opinion of a town or village is based on the library and its contents. If I find new books of the finer type, I judge the community is one in which I would like to live and rear my family. May I congratulate you on the fine choice of books I find in Winchester's library."

Progress in your local library in the past decade would not have gained the momentum it has without the many gifts it has received from many of you donors. We are very grateful to all for those gifts. However, we feel that an especial mention should be made of our local Riggs community. During the last few years, this community has given $58 to our library as memorial books in memory of citizens of that community. Recently we added the Liberty community to our list of those interested in our library. Books were placed from this community in memory of William Coultas.

Recent gifts of memorial books are: The D. D. Watt family in memory of Mrs. N. T. Lashmet, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Thomas in memory of Mrs. N. T. Lashmet, Mrs. B. F. Walker in memory of W. Z. Connor, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dugan and Mr. and Mrs. William Baisley in memory of W. Z. Connor, Mrs. Roy Phares, Mr. and Mrs. Angus McKee and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowhick in memory of W. Z. Connor.

SINCE 1866

Some folks talk as though they want life to be a downhill race without obstacles.

But God, who made man in His own image, never meant it to be so. For the muscle becomes helpless which is never tensed; the mind grows dull which is never challenged. There is no courage without threat of battle.

This life was meant to be a succession of goals . . . each the more inspiring because of the hazards along the way. And who among us, worth his salt, would want a life any different?

It is the uphill, the hazardous, course of courageous living that makes spiritual strength a must. You and I need the Church. We need the Church because we see divine as well as human purpose in our existence.

Life—as we like it—gains deeper meaning with each new discovery of our need of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncertainties may pile up daily in this and that part of the globe but one thing businessmen can now be sure of: Federal tax policies will be about the same for another year.

This can affect some business planning, many tax returns, and also the hopes of the U.S. Treasury in holding down a prospective deficit that seems to grow and grow.

Businessmen who were eyeing some tax relief as an incentive for expanding their plants can forget it. There won't be any special help that way this year.

Those who were fearing a crack-down on expense spending as one of the pleasanter ways of doing business can relax. Congress has put all that over until next year. If then. And the same goes for the withholding at source of taxes on interest and dividend payments.

Those who were bemoaning the chance of losing present partial

FOUR-FOUR TRUMP IS REST HERE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a hand from a recent tournament at Richmond, Calif. It illustrates the great value of the four-four trump fit.

South's hand is worth a two-diamond opening, in spite of the broken trump suit. When North is able to raise to three diamonds, South would be silly to settle for less than a slam.

Most South players went into the Blackwood routine right away and, after finding that North held one ace and no kings, placed the contract at a conservative six-trump or a more optimistic seven-trump.

As you can see the heart finesse was wrong; thus, the seven-diamond bidders were out of luck while the six no-trump bidders fared better than those who settled for six diamonds.

When Mrs. C. A. Riley of Santa Rosa held the South hand, she

Watson, Stafford Wedding Rites Planned Sunday

PITTSFIELD—Miss Judy Watson arrived Thursday evening in St. Louis, Mo., at 8:00 p.m. and was met by her parents. She is a student at Emory College in Atlanta, Georgia where she will graduate in June 1962. She is to be married on Sunday, Aug. 27 to David George Stafford.

Several pre-nuptial parties are planned for the weekend. A family miscegenous shower will be held on Friday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. with Mrs. Gene Seybold assisted by Mrs. Wade Swedeen. Friday evening Mrs. Alvin Brant Jr. will be assisted at a miscellaneous shower by her daughter-in-law Mrs. Barbara Brant at 8:00 p.m.

On Saturday morning at 11:00 a.m. Mrs. Don Curless will be assisted by her daughter-in-law Mrs. Mike Curless and Mrs. Harold Holmbeck at a linen shower and luncheon.

The rehearsal dinner will be held at the Old Orchard Country Club Saturday evening with the groom's parents as hosts. Sunday noon, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dismore will entertain the family and wedding party at an outdoor luncheon at their home on West Perry Street. The wedding is at 4:00 p.m. with a reception at the T. C. Watson home.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — As the beginning of television's 1961-62 season draws closer, visitors can feel the atmosphere in the studios growing more tense. It's not excitement or anticipation, it's more like an epidemic of nervous fear.

The fall and winter TV schedules are loaded with so-called "action" shows planned and often written before violence became a dirty word in Washington and in the offices of network top brass. But when you heard rumors of drastic revisions of story lines and re-shooting of sequences to erase mass slaughters, almost nobody will admit making changes.

According to a pretty authoritative report—it trickled to me from an employee of one network who knows somebody who works for another network who knows somebody who works in the show—the

Calhoun Has 4-H Delegates With Work At Fair

HARDIN — Calhoun county 4-H home economics delegates returned last weekend from the Illinois State Fair at Springfield, where they modeled clothing, attended classes, gave demonstrations, exhibited projects and participated in a public speaking contest. Mrs. Frances Nolte served as chaperone for the girls.

Girls who modeled the garments they made in 4-H projects this year were Janet Schlepper and Judy Keld of the Rainbow Girls, Marilyn Devening of the Hardin Busy Bees and Barbara Fischer of the Jolly Juniors. The dress made by Cathy Campbell of the Hardin Busy Bees was taken to the fair for competition in clothing construction, and was given a "B" rating.

Mary Hillen of the Jolly Juniors represented the county in flower arrangement, and Mary Helen Zahrl of the Rainbow Girls gave her foods demonstration at the fair. Margaret Fortschneider of the Rainbow Girls and Linda Caselton of the Westside Belles attended foods classes.

The dining table cover made by Pat Baltisburger of the Rainbow Girls was in competition at the fair, and it received a "B" rating. Ada Mae Herter of the Golden Eagle Home Ec club competed in the public speaking contest and was awarded a participation ribbon.

Locally, the 4-H home economics clubs are completing and turning in to their leaders the yearly records. From these, achievement clubs and "club of the year" will be selected, and other awards will be made at the annual achievement night program sometime in November. Records will be graded in the county Thursday, and will be sent on for state judging.

Fish Supper Friday
The annual fish supper sponsored by the Presbyterian church in Kampsville, will be an event of Friday, Aug. 25, on the church lawn. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. in case of bad weather, the meal will be served in the church annex.

GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—The way everybody has been carrying on since spring training, you would suspect that the Dodgers had a monopoly on every phenomenal ballplayer in the National League. Everybody but Walter Alton, that is. While writers, rival managers and even players were taking it for granted that Walter O'Malley's wards were so far superior to the opposition they could run away and hide, the wily Los Angeles manager was non-committal. Or only mildly optimistic in effusive moments.

"The young fellows make mistakes," he repeated.

Time may be proving that Alton was right—and everybody else wrong. The Reds did a lot to deflate the wild raves about the Dodgers. The drums have been thumped more effectively than the club has played. This could be a vastly overrated outfit.

The Dodgers have been outdoing Madison Avenue in the hard sell department since Branch Rickey switched operations from St. Louis to Brooklyn during World War II. Buzzy Bavasi, vice president in charge of practically everything, and Franco Thompson, the farm director, learned well from the Mahatma. Arthur Patterson is a matchless tub thumper, and this year Leo Durocher was brought back as a coach to add to the endless din.

Tommy Davis joined towering Frank Howard as a phenom of the Vero Beach camp in the spring of 1960 and this year it was Willie Davis. Howard was going to break Babe Ruth's record in no time at all. It was predicted that Tommy and Willie Davis would run one-two in the NL batting race in the near future.

There were so many touted athletes bouncing around the half dozen fields at Vero Beach last spring that it was suggested the two upcoming new NL clubs be stocked with players from the Dodgers. It was said and written that Alton actually was handicapped by having such a multiplicity of talent.

The implication was that Alton wouldn't know what to do with all the stickbats. But the Dartmouth wood worker just kept his mouth shut and went right on platooning. He was used to being saddled with having to win the pennant or practically face a congressional investigation.

The first concentrated ballhoof to do with Rex Barney while he was in the Army. Barney was going to make everybody forget all the fireballers starting with Walter Johnson.

So extravagant was the praise of the Omaha kid before he re-joined the club in 1946 that Mike Gavin, the late baseball writer, remarked: "This guy is a sucker if he reports. He ought to go straight to Cooperstown."

While Rex Barney earned some measure of fame by pitching a no-hit game against the New York Giants in 1946, he turned out to be wilder than the raves about him.

As I said, it has been this way since Mahatma Rickey first hit Flatbush.

Champion Eagles Face The Acid Test Against Detroit

By BOB MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion Philadelphia Eagles face what rookie Coach Nick Skorich regards as the acid test Friday night when they collide with the undefeated Detroit Lions in Detroit's Tiger Stadium in the weekend's pro football exhibition headliner.

Skorich, whose big problem has been to fill the spot vacated by departed quarterback Norm Van Brocklin, figures the clash with the Lions to be the Eagles' big test for two reasons.

First, he thinks if the Eagles can achieve Detroit's powerful defense the chances of Philadelphia retaining its world title will be greatly improved. Second, King Hill will find out just how much he'll make Eagle fans forget Van Brocklin.

"The Lions are capable of picking up all the marbles in the National Football League's Western Division," insists the boss of the Ex-tern Division club.

The Detroit game will be the first starting assignment at quarterback.

Only other action in the NFL Friday night sends the Cleveland Browns to Los Angeles to battle the Rams. The Browns, regarded by many as a team that could go all the way in the Eastern Division, were clubbed by Detroit 36-7 Aug. 11 and last weekend routed San Francisco 37-0. Los Angeles, leading the Redskins 26-7 for its only triumph, surrendered a 20-0 work to a 17-1 tie with the New York Giants.

Over in the rival American Football League, three games are slated Friday night. The Dallas Texans, leading the exhibition parade

Richards May Go To Houston For Right Price

BALTIMORE (AP) — If the price is right, Paul Richards will quit as manager of the Baltimore Orioles after the current season to become general manager of the new Houston team in the National League.

Both Richards and Joseph A. W. Iglehart, chairman of the Orioles' board of directors, Thursday confirmed persistent rumors that connected Richards with the Houston job.

In Kansas City, where the Orioles are now playing, Richards said he had "outlined certain conditions" that would have to be met before he would consider the Houston post. He said he had turned down a managerial offer with Houston, and reiterated he would not manage any club after leaving Baltimore.

Iglehart, contacted here, said Orioles officials have known about the Houston offer, and had given Richards permission to negotiate.

LITTLE LEAGUE RESULTS
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — El Campo, Tex., upset Monterey, Mexico, 1-0 and El Cajon, Calif., nipped Hilo, Hawaii, 3-2 in 8 innings Thursday and reached the finals of the Little League baseball world series.

The Californians and Texas will play in the championship game Saturday afternoon.

Caleb Wins Matron's Stake

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — Caleb, a favorite for the Hambletonian next week at DuQuoin, Ill., won the $10,000 Matron's Stake Thursday in the Grand Circuit at the Missouri State Fair.

Caleb, owned by Mrs. Charlotte Devann of Hanover, Pa., won the first heat in 2:05 for the mile over a slow track. In the second heat, Caleb was narrowly shaded by Castleton's Farm Spectator in 2:06 1-6.

Caleb took honors on the basis of his 1-2 finishes. Spectator finished 7th in the first heat.

Murtaugh Gets Contract For Next Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — To the great surprise of no one, Manager Danny Murtaugh of the disappointing world champion Pittsburgh Pirates will be back as manager next year.

General Manager Joe L. Brown made the announcement at a news conference Thursday. There was no mention of salary terms but Murtaugh is not expected to take much of a cut, if any, in the $40,000 salary he reportedly received this year.

The Bucs have been a bitter disappointment to Brown and Murtaugh. Currently they are in sixth place in the National League.

Despite their downfall, Brown has made it clear all along he's not blaming Murtaugh. The Pirates lost their ace pitcher, Vernon Law, for most of the season with a shoulder injury. Other injuries have hampered the club which last season won the pennant by seven games over Milwaukee, then beat the New York Yankees in a thrilling 7-games World Series.

Murtaugh made no excuses for the Pirates' slide. He did say his glaring weakness has been his pitching. And he said the defense has been spotty, the offense inconsistent.

Both Murtaugh and Brown indicated they will try to make some trades.

Phillies Take 7-4 Victory From Chicago

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A six-run second inning, featured by Don Demeter's three-run homer, paced the Philadelphia Phillies to a 7-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday night. It was the third straight win for the last-place Phils, matching their longest winning streak of the season.

Jim Owens, beaten eight straight times since winning his first start of the season June 26, was the winner although he needed help from Don Ferrarese in the eighth. Ferrarese came on in the eighth with two on and none out and retired the Cubs without a run scoring.

The Phils exploded for their biggest inning since July 4 against the Jackie Browns (8-9). Frank Herrera singled, Tony Gonzalez walked and, after a force-out, Clay Dalrymple singled home a run.

Owens then squeezed home another, Tony Taylor singled for a third and, after Bobby Makumus walked, Demeter led the first pitch into the upper deck for his 14th homer and fifth in nine games.

British Upset Aussies In Wightman Cup

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — British Wightman Cup members Ann Haydon and Christine Truman blasted their way into the quarterfinals of the 81st USLTA National Doubles Tennis Championships Thursday with a second-round victory over third-seeded Australian girls Jan Lehane and Margaret Smith.

Shipping and skidding their way to the upset victory on the rain-slicked grass courts at Longwood Cricket Club, the unseeded English girls posted an 11-9, 6-1 decision in a 90-minute match.

The fifth-seeded men's team of veteran Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., and Australian Bob Mark had first-seed trouble before eliminating Dave Reed of Glendale, Calif., and Henry Komakawa of Honolulu, Hawaii, in a second-round match, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

The Mexican pairing of Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, seeded third but favored by some to win the men's crown, also advanced into third-round play. They posted a 10-8, 6-2, 6-4, victory over the international team of Adrian Bar of Rhodesia and Alan Lane of Australia.

The No. 1 men's team of Marty Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill., and Ramsey Earnhart of Ventura, Calif., had won their second-round match earlier in the week and did not play Thursday.

Davis Cuppers Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Dennis Ralston of Bakerfield, Calif., were extended 45 minutes and more than three hours before defeating National Junior finalist Charlie Pasarell of San Juan, P.R., and Clark Griebner of Lakewood, Ohio, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Decker Seeks Second Amateur Title

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Mrs. Anne Quast Decker of Seattle furthered her campaign for a second National Women's Amateur golf championship Thursday, shooting par 60 to beat Mrs. Ruth Miller of Whittier, Calif., 5 and 3.

Turning in a one-under-par performance, 14-year-old Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla., joined Mrs. Decker in the semifinals with a 7 and 5 victory over Karen Schull of Kansas City.

In Friday's 18-hole semifinals, Mrs. Decker will meet Mrs. Gaines Wilson Jr. of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Albers is matched with Phyllis Preuss of Gregory, Mich.

Miss Preuss defeated Barbara McIntire, Jupiter, Fla., 1959 champion, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Wilson defeated Judy Hoelmer of Seattle, national collegiate champion, 2 up.

Boston Edges Washington 5-4

BOSTON (AP) — Jackie Jensen cracked his second homer of the game, a lofty one-out drive in the 10th inning Thursday as Boston edged Washington 5-4.

Only a short time after Jensen announced his intentional grounding, the veteran outfielder struck the decisive blow off third-segment pitcher Pete Burnside.

Jensen had disclosed earlier in the day, in conjunction with the ball club, that he would not fly to Los Angeles for a weekend series. Because of his aversion to flying, Jensen will travel by train to Kansas City where he'll meet the club Monday.

Jackie tied the game with a two-run drive in the sixth inning. It was his 11th of the season and followed a Pete Runnels double.

In the top of the sixth Washington's Jim King had tagged a two-run homer, his ninth, after a Gene Woodling single.

DENVER (AP) — Marty Fleckman of Fort Arthur, Tex., stroked par 72 in the third round Thursday to pull into a first-place tie at 210 strokes with Walter Jay Sigel of Northerly, Pa., at the 64-hole mark of the International Jaycee Golf Tournament.

Sigel slipped to a 74 on the 63rd, par 72 Wellspring municipal course.

Tim Zwetlow of Madison, Wis., shooting 70—lowest of the day—was five strokes back of the co-leaders at 215 going into Friday's final 18 holes.

Chisox Suffer Second Straight Shutout, 3-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Kaat, 22-year-old left-hander, held the White Sox to five hits Thursday as he pitched the Minnesota Twins to a 3-0 victory. It was the second straight shutout for the Sox at the hands of the Twins. Camilo Pascual blanked them on two hits Wednesday night.

Kaat walked two and struck out two and had a hand in both Minnesota scoring episodes, starting one with a triple and the other with a base on balls.

Kaat tripled to deep right center to open the third and scored on Billy Martin's double to the same sector. Kaat also pried open the productive fifth in which the Martin singled, sending Green to third and both runners raced home when Harmon Killebrew lined a double to left center. A walk to Joe Altobelli brought out Herbert's dismissal. Warren Hacker came on to strike out the next two men.

The Sox got one runner as far as third.

Cincinnati Strikes Back At Giants With 8-5 Win

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Leo Cardenas, pressed into action in a shakeup of the slipping first place Cincinnati Reds, came through with three runs, a homer and three hits Thursday night in an 8-5 victory over San Francisco.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson put Cardenas and Dick Gernert into the lineup in hopes of stopping the Reds' four-game losing streak. The two utility men came through with four RBIs and five hits between them as the Reds halted their downward slide and the Giants' surge. San Francisco had won six straight, the last three over the Reds.

Cardenas had two doubles and a single, scoring three runs. His line double to left sent in three runs in the Reds' four-run seventh.

Gernert had a pair of singles and drove in a run in the Reds' three-run fourth.

Detroit Shuts Out Indians In 6-0 Outing

CLEVELAND (AP) — Detroit right-hander Frank Lary shut out the Cleveland Indians, 6-0, on four hits Thursday night to pick up his 19th victory in 25 decisions. It was his 18th complete game in 29 starts.

Lary pitched to only three batters in five of the nine innings. He issued but one walk, to Jim Piersall in the sixth, but the Cleveland center fielder was picked off first base on a throw by Lary.

Billy Bruton got four of Detroit's 16 hits, driving in two walks in five appearances.

The Tigers got their first five runs off starter Jim Perry (9-12), who gave up 10 hits in the six innings he worked.

The Tigers picked up their last run off reliever Bob Allen in the seventh on singles by Rocky Colavito, Cash, Dick McAuliffe and Mike Roark.

Art Wall Grabs Lead In American Classic

By JOE MOOSHL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Art Wall Jr., hampered by physical ailments since being named "golfer of the year" in 1959, grabbed the first round lead Thursday in the 72-hole, $50,000 American Golf Classic with a three-under-par 67.

Five birdies and a late round letdown by Bob Goalby helped Wall lead the field over the tough 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course.

Goalby, who birdied three of the four par three holes, came to the 17th three-under-par. He three-putted the 17th and missed a 12-foot birdie putt, on the 18th to drop into a three-way tie for second along with Frank Boynton and Billy Maxwell.

Aside from the top four, the only others to bust par were Ted Kroll, Huston LeClair Jr. and Ken Venturi. They were tied with 69.

British Open champion Arnold Palmer, Don January, Jim Ferrier, Rex Baxter Jr., Al Balding and Jay Hebert all matched par 70.

Also matching par was this year's PGA champion, little Jerry Barber. Another 18-hole round will be 35-70.

Connie Mack World Series In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Springfield will host the Connie Mack World Series Friday, opening a four game baseball schedule with B. and E. Hardwood of Seattle, Wash., facing Sportsman's Club of Battle Creek, Mich.

The double elimination tournament, which means a team must lose twice before being ousted, may run as far into next week as Wednesday before a series champion is picked.

Boys ranging through 18 years old are eligible for the Connie Mack teams.

The East Side Lions of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Enaley of Birmingham, Ala., are foes in the second game.

In the evening session, American Legion of Culver City, Calif., meets Nathan Hale High School of West Allis, Wis.

The host Illinois National team of Springfield encounters J. L. Thomson Co. of Waltham, Mass., in the last game of the first round.

Braves Quiet Pirates, 6-1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Warren Spahn pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-1 victory over Pittsburgh Thursday night as the Braves salvaged the final game of a three-game series.

The veteran left-hander scattered 10 hits in picking up his 15th victory of the year and the 303rd of his career. He has lost 12 this year.

Lee Maye drilled a two-run homer into the upper right field stands in the sixth inning. It was his 14th of the year.

Bob Friend worked six innings and took the loss, his 16th against 12 victories.

The Pirates pushed over their lone run in the second inning on singles by Hal Smith and Bill Mazeroski and a double by Joe Christopher.

Barber Tied For Fourth In American Classic Tourney; Fairfield Six Strokes Off

By BILL DRAKE
AKRON, Ohio (Special to the Journal Courier) — Jerry Barber shot 35-35 even par 70 here today in the first round of the American Golf Classic at the long Firestone Country Club, The tiny former Jacksonville resident who won the PGA Tournament in Chicago last month with one the greatest putting demonstrations ever seen anywhere is tied for fourth place four shots behind the leader, Art Wall. Barber had four birdies and four bogies in his par efforts. He had a four footer for a bird at one, a 20 foot putt at nine, a 12 foot putt at ten, and holed out from a bunker on the 11th, a sand wedge 45 feet from the hole.

In the evening session, American Legion of Culver City, Calif., meets Nathan Hale High School of West Allis, Wis.

The host Illinois National team of Springfield encounters J. L. Thomson Co. of Waltham, Mass., in the last game of the first round.

Barber, who was elected recently to the Ryder Cup team, has played in 21 tournaments this year and has won some $10,000.

Don Fairfield was three shots over par today. He had 35-35-73 and lies six strokes behind the pace setting Wall. "I just couldn't reach those greens on the front nine," said Fairfield following his first round here today. "I played up on nearly every one of them. As a matter of fact, I only hit four greens in regulation on the front nine and I never got a putt over five feet."

Fairfield, who has won $11,000 in 26 tournaments this year, made a birdie on the par five second hole when he placed his third shot two feet from the pin. He had bogies at 3, 4 and 6 however, when in each instance he missed the putting surface and wound up in the rough. Don shot even par on the back side. He chipped in a bird on 20 feet on twelve, he bogied the par three 18th after hitting what he described as the best iron he had hit all day.

The shot was a one iron and trickled over the back side of the par three green. He chipped 15 feet past with the second and missed his par putt by one foot.

Sir Gaylord Heads Field For Hopeful

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — A field of nine top 2-year-olds, headed by the Meadow Stables Sir Gaylord, is expected to take the track Saturday for the 56th running of the $75,000 stake race at the Saratoga meeting.

Sir Gaylord is a four-time stakes winner, having taken the Tyro at Monmouth Park, the Cold Division of the National Stallion and the Great American in New York, and most recently the Sapling at Monmouth.

Main opposition to Sir Gaylord is expected to come from George D. Widener's Jaihur.

Friend Reports Gray Won't Run For Reelection

SPARTA, Ill. (P) — An associate of Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Ill., said today the congressman will not seek reelection.

Hilton Burns, mayor of Sparta for 16 years, said he was told Thursday by Gray that the congressman plans to retire from Congress at the end of his current term.

Gray had said he would not be a candidate if the state legislature failed to remove the congressional districts. But Burns said Gray told him he would not run for office under any circumstances.

Burns said Gray made no mention of his future plans, nor what his departure from the congressional scene would do to the various plans among Illinois lawmakers to eliminate a congressman.

The 36-year-old Gray, native of West Frankfort, has served in the 84th, 85th and 86th Congresses from the 25th District. The district represents the state's southernmost counties.

Dr. Lehnhardt Tells How, Why

How many friends already had come to us under these circumstances. It had happened so often that we had practically none left. Why did we remain? We asked ourselves that Saturday. What was holding us in East Berlin, which we hated so much?

Saturday night, after our friends had arrived and we had all gone to bed, I thought I heard the rumble of moving tanks. But I was only half-awakened and fell back asleep again without looking.

Finally closed. Early in the morning our friends rushed in from the living room, where they had turned on the radio. They had just heard the announcement that the border had been closed.

My wife and I decided immediately that the time had come for us—for our own sakes, for the sake of our child.

I had to put my own family first. My little car could not carry us all. We bade the saddest of farewells to our friends.

Hurrying all of us—including our dog—into the car, I made for the Brandenburg Gate by the shortest route. It seemed to be the likeliest path to get through, if that was still possible, because of the great width of the crossing there.

The nearer we got to the Brandenburg Gate, the thicker became the people's police, the Communist soldiers, the tanks.

When we were about 100 yards away, a policeman stopped us. As of today, he said, only I could go over to West Berlin, and then not unless I could prove I had official business. My family would have to stay behind.

I argued that I was needed urgently and could not waste time by taking my family back to the yard. The policeman would not yield. Finally I asked to speak with his chief.

Then it happened. The fear of pistols and submachineguns disappeared before the fear of a lifetime of captivity.

I threw the car into gear and raced forward. The soldiers and policemen started too startled to stop. One stood in my way but jumped aside as I kept coming.

Before they could recover I had reached the safety of the traffic on the West Berlin side. My car was lost among the others.

Freedom at last.

Starting All Over

I went to friends in West Berlin, who are finding me a place on the staff of a Hamburg hospital. I will go there with my family in a few days. We have nothing. We have to start all over again. It will be a completely new life—but such a better one.

Nail In Throat, Autos Whiz By And Girl Dies

CHATHAM, N.Y. (P) — A motorist merely glanced curiously at a group of screaming women as they lay near death, three-quarter inch nail lodged in her throat.

Alma Gomez, 4, ran home from play Thursday, crying that she had swallowed a nail. Her mother, Carmen Gomez, 32, had no telephone or car.

She ran into the street, carrying Alma. Neighbors' women joined her. None of them had cars or telephones.

When passing autos did not stop, one woman ran to a house with a telephone. A rescue crew rushed the youngster to a hospital.

She was dead when they arrived.

AP NEWSPAPERMAN DIES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (P) — Arnold R. Deitzel, 62, an editor in the New York office of the Associated Press and a former Illinois newspaperman, died Thursday night.

Deitzel was born July 18, 1909, in Decatur, Ill. He was graduated from Millikin University in Decatur in 1931 and first worked for the Decatur Herald-Review. He was sports editor for two years on the Champaign-Urbana (Ill.) Courier.

Maritime Unions In Agreement; To Sign Pact

NEW YORK (P) — A nationwide maritime dispute which for a time halted virtually all American shipping neared settlement today after the signing of various new work contracts. It was one of the most complex situations ever tackled by federal mediators.

A strike was called June 16 by five seafaring unions. They returned to work July 3 after the government obtained a Taft-Hartley law injunction against the walkout.

The 80-day cooling off period under the injunction, which was to have expired Sept. 21, eventually brought settlements between the unions and most of the firms operating passenger, cargo and tanker vessels.

One of the last major settlements came Thursday night when the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association came to terms with the United States Lines, Lykes Bros. Steamship Co., Grace Lines and Farrell Lines.

In the new contract, the union won one of its chief demands—the right to organize engineers on American-owned ships operated under foreign registry. Company union groups will work out details later.

Ship operators had balked at this for years because they could employ crew members at lower pay scales on such vessels.

A union spokesman said agreements also have been concluded with the Tanker Labor Service Committee on behalf of 13 of the 18 tanker companies with which the union has contracts.

Other unions in the strike were the Masters, Mates and Pilots; the American Radio Association; the Seafarers International Union; and the National Maritime Union.

They also have resolved differences with most of the companies they serve.

Kerner Commutes Prison Terms Of 2 Murderers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P) — Gov. Otto Kerner today commuted the sentences of Fred Odum and Eddie Rogers Jr., both convicted of murder, to expire at once.

Odum was convicted in 1955 in Williamson County Circuit Court and sentenced to 20 years when he was 41. Odum, who had no previous record, was recommended for commutation by the State Parole and Pardon Board.

The board recommended the same for Rogers, 24 when sentenced in Cook County in 1954, because he is a tuberculous patient. The board recommended he might adjust adequately in a sanatorium.

Kerner commuted the 4 to 7 year sentence of William C. Roth in Cook County last year for embezzlement.

Kerner said Roth has suffered strokes, is partially paralyzed and speechless, and has a heart condition. He is eligible for treatment in a veterans' hospital.

School Returned To Government By Beaufort, S. C.

BEAUFORT, S.C. (P) — An elementary school, built and operated with federal funds, has been given back to the federal government in an apparent move to avoid integration of an institution in the South Carolina public school system.

Neither school nor Marine Corps officials would comment on the reason behind the transfer, however.

The Hamilton Elementary School adjoining the Beaufort Marine Air Station was built three years ago with federal funds provided to help areas where there are concentrations of dependents of military personnel. Until this year, it had been operated with federal funds by the Beaufort County Board of Education and was attended by about 800 white pupils and no Negroes.

The school is adjacent to Capehart housing units for air station personnel and officers at the air station said they understood several Negro pupils will attend the school this year. It could not be integrated under state laws as long as it was operated by a subdivision of state government—the Beaufort school board.

Who's It To Be, Me Or Meany? Demands Hoffa

WASHINGTON (P) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is asking heads of AFL-CIO unions to choose sides between him and George Meany, AFL-CIO president.

Hoffa sent out telegrams to presidents of the AFL-CIO unions seeking their opinions of Meany's recent statement commending the defection of four Cincinnati, Ohio, Teamster locals. Several of the seceding locals are reported set to join the AFL-CIO Brewery Workers.

Hoffa said he was shocked to find out that Meany welcomed raids on the Teamsters and had referred to the Teamsters as gangster-dominated.

There was no immediate response from Meany or other AFL-CIO chiefs. But an AFL-CIO source called attention to Hoffa's declaration to the Teamsters convention in early July that the Teamsters would organize all workers as yet unorganized in jurisdiction of other unions.

"So what's he complaining about?" the AFL-CIO source said. "It sounds like Hoffa is getting a bit panicky."

Several AFL-CIO union heads receiving Hoffa's telegram declined to comment or say whether they would send a reply. One suggested forming a rival AFL-CIO outfit to fight Hoffa.

Hoffa called Meany's support of the defecting Cincinnati Teamsters locals a shameful performance by one "who boasts he never walked a picket line."

Gangster charges against the Teamsters, Hoffa's telegram said, "more befit the anti-labor spokesmen of this country than the man who claims to, but does not really, speak for the working man."

Meany really expressed the desire of all AFL-CIO affiliates to declare open season on the Teamsters. But if that is the case, Hoffa warned, "We are confident our membership will rise to the challenge."

Before Hoffa's telegrams were sent out, James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, issued a statement calling for establishment of a rival AFL-CIO Teamsters organization.

Impose Sentences Up To 5 Years On 6 Chicago Cops

CHICAGO (P) — Six former Chicago policemen drew prison sentences ranging up to five years Thursday for helping a confessed burglar loot a number of North Side Chicago stores. Two other ex-men-in-blue were fined $500 each.

In a tense climax to a scandal that rocked Chicago and led to a reform of the Chicago Police Department, the eight defendants and a jam-packed courtroom list ended silently as Criminal Court Judge James B. Parsons imposed these sentences:

Allan Brinn, 31, one to three years; Alan Clements, 30, Frank Faraci, 43, and Alex Karras, 28, two to five years each; Sol Karras, twin brother to Alex, drew a two to three year sentence and Peter Groark, 29, was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $1,000. Judge Parsons granted 60 days of execution to allow for appeal.

Peter Beettink, 53, and Henry Mules, 46, were fined $500 each. The eight were charged with conspiracy to commit burglary and to receive and conceal stolen property.

The charges, which carried a possible 15 year penalty, grew out of the confessions of Richard Morrison, 25, a burglar who was granted immunity in exchange for his lengthy, detailed testimony of how the eight defendants spotted stores for him to loot, served as lookouts and helped haul the loot away in squad cars.

All but Groark were found guilty by an all-women jury which spent less than three hours Wednesday deliberating the mass of testimony piled up during the two-month trial. Groark, who elected to have a bench trial, was found guilty Thursday by Judge Parsons.

Reconciliation For Dick, June?

HOLLYWOOD (P) — A spokesman for actor Dick Powell says he and wife June Allyson probably will reconcile.

The couple was granted an interlocutory divorce last Jan. 31 after a 15-year marriage. Under California law, the divorce is not final until Jan. 31, 1962.

The spokesman said Thursday Powell, 56, and his actress wife, 37, had been living together since they visited their children vacationing in Monterey, Calif. Miss Allyson recently suffered a kidney stone ailment there.

Two Pilots End 17-Day Test In Sealed Cabin

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (P) — Two Air Force pilots, sealed in a steel cabin long enough for a trip to the moon and back, said Thursday they found it comparatively easy to live under space travel conditions.

Lt. Bernard Appel, of Forest Hills, N.Y., and Lt. Joseph Slider, of Comanche, Tex., said they felt fine at the end of a 17-day test during which they ate dehydrated food, drank water processed from the atmosphere and their own body wastes and breathed atmosphere containing more than 90 per cent oxygen.

Officials at the Aerospace Medical Center pronounced the test a success and said the pilots are in fine shape.

Appel, 28, and Slider, 27, chatted with their families and newsmen briefly after stepping from the 8x12-foot simulated space cabin.

Then they were rushed to laboratories at the center at Brooks Air Force Base to begin extensive medical and psychological examinations.

Dr. Hans-George Clamann, chief of the Department of Space Medicine, said the pilots experienced every known sensation of actual space flight except weightlessness.

Bars Use Of Public Funds For Private Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (P) — A federal judge barred Prince Edward County, Va., Thursday from using public funds to finance private, segregated education as long as public schools are closed in the county.

U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis said Prince Edward and the state of Virginia have tried to thwart a federal court desegregation order by providing tuition grants for private segregated schooling.

Lewis also ruled out credit on county taxes which were permitted for contributions to white, segregated schools in Prince Edward, where public schools have been closed for two years in a racial dispute.

"County tax funds have been appropriated as tuition grants and tax credits to aid segregated schooling in Prince Edward County," said Lewis.

White children have attended private, segregated schools financed in part by the public tuition grants. The approximately 1,800 school-age Negro children have been without formal education, although the same grants are available to them.

On the issue of whether Prince Edward had the legal right to close public schools rather than accept racial integration, Lewis said an answer to that required an interpretation of state law by state courts.

He gave the state and Negroes seeking to reopen the schools 60 days for bringing the action in the state courts. Both sides have indicated they would.

SOVIET FASHIONS FALL FLAT IN JAPAN

TOKYO (P) — Japanese fashion designers were not too impressed with clothes exhibited at the Soviet trade fair here. Said one: "Our department stores have equivalent items in their ready-made garment sections."

Plan Hearings On Kaskaskia River Canal

NEW ATHENS, Ill. (P) — The Kaskaskia Development Association says Illinois congressmen have promised to seek a hearing this year on the proposed $58-million program for canalization of the Kaskaskia River.

At a meeting Thursday night in New Athens, a spokesman reported that Illinois Power Co. is interested in the amount of water that would be available for power plants near Baldwin and Okawville.

Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Ill., had said hearings would be held early next year. But Eldon Hazlet, head of the association, said congressmen are trying for a hearing this year, if only to discuss the power company's query.

Titov Tracked By U.S. From Moment He Entered Orbit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — American space trackers had their electronic eyes on Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov from the moment he entered orbit.

That was disclosed Thursday at a news conference at which charts made by the North American Air Defense Command — NORAD — were shown to reporters.

Henry F. Argento, vice president and general manager of the government and industrial division of Philco Corp., which supplied the electronic data-processing system for NORAD's space detection and tracking system, explained the charts.

San Francisco apparently was the only major city which could have been visually observed by Maj. Titov on his eighth orbit on Aug. 6, Argento said. The charts showed that cloud formations barred much of the eastern United States from observation.

NORAD reported it had Titov in its electronic sights from the moment he entered orbit and that his first pass over North America along the East Coast was projected four hours before it happened.

Titov's impact point at the end of his 17 orbits was forecast after his first orbit was completed, Argento reported.

NORAD's space detection and tracking system is served by a network of more than 100 sensor stations throughout the free world.

Return Airliner For Search After Man Leaps Off

CHICAGO (P) — A passenger's leap from a United Air Lines plane just before takeoff Thursday caused authorities to order the plane to return to Midway airport for a bomb search.

Air line officials said they ordered the search as a safety measure after learning a man had leaped a few feet to the ground through a loading door in the plane a few moments before takeoff. No bomb was found. A ground crew grabbed the man and held him for authorities.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Quan said the passenger, recently released from a mental hospital, told FBI agents he was afraid there was a bomb on it. Quan said there was no grounds for federal charges.

EMPLOYMENT UP

CHICAGO (P) — Unemployment compensation claims last week dipped below 100,000 in Illinois for the first time since last fall.

Samuel C. Bernstein, state labor director, said Thursday that 98,832 persons filed claims last week. The last time claim figures dropped below 100,000 was Oct. 29, 1960, when 97,830 were filed, Bernstein said.

A three-year high was reported March 4, 1961, when jobless pay claims hit 210,327. They have been decreasing steadily since.

Initial applications for compensation totaled 10,843 last week. Bernstein said, down 17.6 per cent from the week before. The employment upturn was attributed to gains in the machinery, electrical equipment and transportation industries.

The mascot of the Southern Methodist football team is a Shetland pony named "Peruna."

Suggest Union For Unemployed

CHICAGO (P) — A labor organization Thursday suggested that a union be formed for the unemployed.

A resolution to that effect was approved at the convention of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

It recommended that the AFL-CIO and the Canadian Labor Congress charter such unions to: Dramatize the needs of the jobless.

Represent them before Congress, legislature, city and county governing bodies and welfare and charitable agencies.

Help the idle find work.

The resolution said the "largest grouping of all workers—the unemployed—are without formal (union) representation." They numbered 5.14 million in July in the United States.

The resolution noted that existing unions "have no means of directly representing the interests" of the idle, and added that a union member "ordinarily is cast adrift when he is laid off."

The convention suggested that going unions could furnish meeting halls and staff assistance for the union of the idle.

The idea was launched to see if any other unions would pick up the cause. The oil workers themselves didn't plan any immediate follow-up action.

Directions and warnings for autoists in park.

Monkeys climb car to get close look at visitors.

It's not a bad dream; it's reality. You're driving your car through African bush country. Suddenly, before you, looms an elephant, as big as a house, crossing the road in leisurely fashion. Nearby, the tall neck of a giraffe stretches over the underbrush. A zebra comes dashing up. You stop the car for a moment, and a monkey leaps onto the hood.

All this can happen when you tour South Africa's Kruger National Park, the largest wild game sanctuary in the world, nearly 8,000 square miles of virgin country roamed by thousands of lions, elephants, hippos, giraffes, zebras, monkeys and many different species of deer and antelope.

Wildlife has prospered in the park. During the past 50 years, the elephant herd has doubled, now numbering about 1,200. The ox-like antelope called the eland, near extinction in 1900, now numbers 400. And the same rate of increase holds true for most of the other animals.

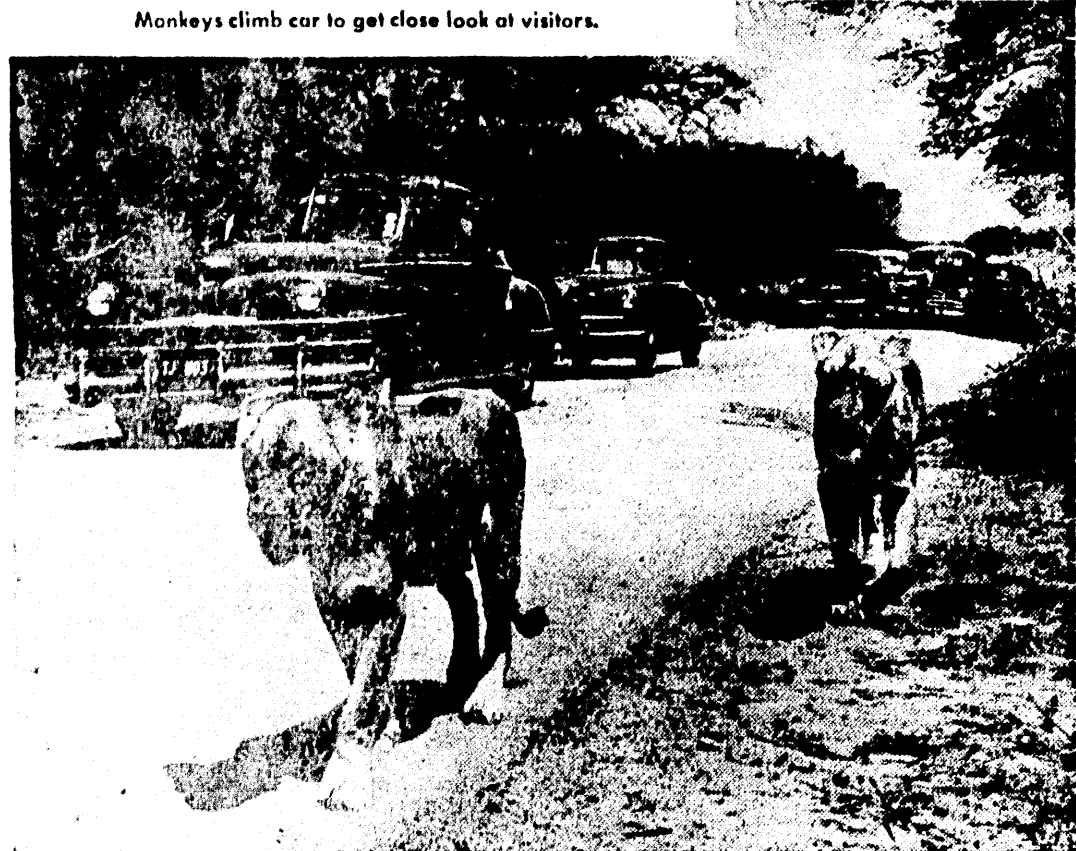

To keep animals safely in the park, and poachers out, the park is building the longest fence in the world—600 miles of it. When finished, sometime in the fall, it will completely encircle the park.

Tourists are cautioned to stay in their cars, keep to the roads, and drive slowly. They're not allowed to carry firearms. At night, they retire to the safety of rest camps.

WILD ANIMAL PARK

BIG THRILL. Bull elephant crosses road in front of automobile at Letaba, Kruger Park. Tourists travel road during daylight hours.

Two lions saunter down the road completely unconcerned about the cars that are following them.

A bull kudu, large African antelope, lifts his head to pose.

Deep in the bush, workmen erect fence which will completely encircle Kruger Park. When finished, fence will cover distance of 600 miles, making it world's longest.

Giraffes stop to refresh themselves at stream in park.

At rest camp, a couple dine inside a rondavel, a furnished thatched roof cabin. This will be their home during stay in park.

CAMP NIGHT. Food sizzles on grill over barbecue pit while tourists wait to get their share. From the darkness beyond come the wild cries of the African night.

Cuban Uses Tunisian Debate To Accuse U.S. Of Aggression

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A Cuban diplomat contended Thursday that the United States' Guantanamo base in his country was "against Cuba" and that mercenaries are gathering there for an attack.

U.S. Chief Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson replied the charges were "not only false but absurd." He said the Guantanamo base had been maintained for the defense of the Western Hemisphere "and not for attack on the hemisphere."

Cuban Delegate Mario Garcia Inchausti raised the issue in the U.N. General Assembly at a special session on the French-Tunisian dispute over Bizerte. He backed a proposal looking toward withdrawal of French forces from the Bizerte base in Tunisia.

Garcia argued that countries could not use treaties to justify their keeping foreign bases. He charged the United States with maintaining the Guantanamo base to fight Latin Americans struggling for liberation.

In his reply, Stevenson said Garcia has "advocated a new doctrine of international law—or of international lawlessness"—in his contention that a treaty was not valid "if it involves the stationing of forces of one party on the territory of another."

Stevenson also denied Garcia's charges that U.S. bombs had fallen on Tunisia, Cuba, Algeria and Angola. Defending Puerto Rico against the label of U.S. puppet, he said it had been offered an independence plebiscite whenever 10 per cent of the people should demand one. He said, "I wish the Soviet Union would make a similar proposal to the citizens of East Germany."

The Cuban chief delegate said the French base at Bizerte "reminds us of the foreign military base of the United States at Guantanamo."

He accused France of aggression against Tunisia and said this re-

President Joaquin Balaguer's regime.

Less than two hours later, Balaguer went before an extraordinary joint session of Congress and demanded a vote of confidence for what he called a government democratization process instituted since dictator Rafael L. Trujillo was assassinated May 31.

Balaguer declared that either Congress "accepts our resignation en masse or supports without restrictions the policy of democratization that the executive power and the leadership of the joint chiefs of staff of the armed forces consider the only means to save the nation."

Balaguer's demand for a vote of confidence apparently was aimed at a recent heated debate in the Senate in which Roman Catholic Msgr. Eliseo Perez Sanchez, a senator, called on the upper chamber to protest to the government about "trampling" of constitutional rights.

Hemingway Wills Entire Estate To His Widow

NEW YORK (AP) — Author Ernest Hemingway's own handwritten will was filed in Surrogate's Court Thursday. He left his entire estate to his widow, Mary.

Hemingway died from a self-inflicted shotgun wound last July 7.

He wrote his will on both sides of a single sheet of personal stationery, topped with red-inked letters reading "Finca Vigia," San Francisco de Paula, Cuba, where he maintained a residence. It was couched in legal language to comply with technicalities of the law. Dated Sept. 17, 1955, the will was filed by his attorney, Alfred Rice.

In the will Hemingway said, "I have intentionally omitted to provide for my children as I repose complete confidence in my beloved wife, Mary, to provide for them according to written instructions I have given her."

The three children, none by his last marriage, are John Hemingway, Mill Valley, Calif.; Gregory Hemingway of the University of Miami, Fla. School of Medicine; and Patrick Hemingway, a safari guide, of Urusha, Tanganyika, East Africa.

Rice said it was impossible to fix a definite value on the gross estate at this time. He said the estate consisted of cash, securities, real estate in the United States and Cuba, copyrights to published works and original manuscripts of published works and unpublished manuscripts.

Serum Offers New Hope In Treatment Of Some Cancers

PITTSBURG (AP) — A Cleveland scientist disclosed Thursday he has isolated a virus that he believes causes cancer in humans.

Dr. Sergio de Carvalho said he had experimented with cancers in leukemia patients, and on patients with tumors of the breasts, brain, lung and ovaries.

In Detroit, the Detroit News said Dr. Carvalho and others working in cooperation with Parke, Davis & Co. scientists developed a serum which reportedly can be used to treat and prevent cancer and leukemia in animals. The newspaper quoted the scientists as saying the serum was tested in animals and "following success in the use of the anticancer, anti-leukemia serum in animals, human tests now are under way and, although preliminary indications are encouraging, it will be several years before conclusive findings can be reached."

Dr. De Carvalho, speaking at Pittsburgh, said he extracted from human cancer a virus he was able to grow in tissue culture and which subsequently caused cancer in animals.

This may be compared to the growing in tissue culture—cells—of any infectious virus such as polio and rabies. Once the virus has been grown and can be produced in quantity, it may be possible to produce vaccine and immunizing sera. This would be a long stride against cancer but much research lies ahead.

Dr. De Carvalho, director of cancer research with Raul Development Corp., reported his findings at the 19th annual meeting of the Electron Microscope Society of America.

He has been working closely with Dr. Alton Taylor of Parke, Davis & Co., a Detroit pharmaceutical firm. Dr. Taylor, along with Dr. Joseph Rogers of Chicago, reported a new vaccine against hepatitis at the American Medical Assn. meeting in New York in June.

74.1 Per Cent Farmers Favor Marketing Quotas For 1962

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wheat farmers Thursday gave more than the required two-thirds approval for marketing quotas on their 1962 crops in early returns from a referendum in the 39 commercial wheat states.

Voting was unusually heavy, at least double the interest shown in a similar referendum last year.

Of 70,860 votes cast in 21 states, 52,492 or 74.1 per cent favored the government program.

Illinois farmers voted 67.8 in favor of the proposition.

Other states backing the program included Delaware, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, New Jersey, Virginia, Mississippi, Texas, Iowa, Alabama, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Kentucky, North Carolina and Arkansas backed the program while those in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana, New York and Michigan opposed.

To be effective, and get the benefit of the $2-a-bushel price supports already announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, wheat farms must approve the new program by at least a two-thirds vote.

Congress included the wheat program in the general farm legislation it passed this summer in an effort to halt the steadily mounting surplus of the grain. The present record reserves and surplus total about 1.4 billion bushels.

The Agriculture Department estimated that about 800,000 wheat farmers were eligible to vote in Thursday's election but those actually voting were expected to be far less than half this total. In last year's referendum about 201,000 ballots were cast.

Freeman has been emphatic in urging wheat producers to get out and vote. In various talks around the country and in news conferences he has stated that 1962 grower income will be increased some 10 to 15 per cent over what would be received if the present program were continued.

All farmers who produced at least 13.6 acres of wheat in at least 13.6 acres of wheat in at and who will be subject to marketing quotas in 1962 were eligible to vote, except those in the 11-state non-commercial wheat area.

The non-voting states were Alaska, Connecticut, Florida, Hawaii, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

During the past several years farmers received individual quotas on the basis of a minimum national quota of 55 million acres.

The 1961 support price was $1.79 a bushel, or 75 per cent of parity. The $2 price for the 1962 crop announced by Freeman is $4.4 per cent of parity.

If farm voters approve the referendum, the $2 support level will be made available to those producers who participate in the special wheat stabilization program and who comply with acreage allotments.

The new program calls for a 10 per cent cut in wheat acreage for participants. However, they would be allowed to take an additional 30 per cent from production if they so elect.

In addition to the support price, farmers would receive 45 per cent of the normal return in cash or wheat from government-owned stores for the first 10 per cent cut in acreage and 60 per cent of the normal return on the additional land retired from wheat.

Demonstrators, Police Battle In Dominican

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Demonstrators and national police battled on the main street here Thursday just before a special inter-American team arrived on an inquiry mission.

The investigators for the Organization of American States are looking into Dominican promises to restore democratic processes, including elections.

Two persons or more were seriously injured and scores felled by club-swinging police who swooped on an unscheduled demonstration by political opponents of

CONFUSED? Tired of Looking?

MORE DARN TOURISTS

THE STORY: The Wonderful City council votes to object to a plan to hold the annual tourist attraction. Chief objector is a local resident.

Chapter V

"I think we understand the problem, Mrs. Snoddy," Mayor Rainbolt said. He looked at Attorney Wattleby, who appeared astoundingly intelligent as he searched for error in the Dred Scott decision. "How long will it take to find the deed to the park?"

"The deed? Offhand, I don't recall just where it's filed, although, undoubtedly it is in a vault somewhere. However," "Hail," said Mrs. Snoddy, "another public record lost, or deliberately concealed."

"The deed will be produced, and you may inspect it," Mayor Rainbolt said patiently.

"I must warn you that if subsequent examination of the deed reveals restrictive clauses, any action taken by the council contrary to the nature of those clauses will be null and invalid," Wattleby said.

The mayor looked at Fattig. "What do you say?"

Owlsh, jowlish Fattig, who had been on the council for ten years, was not a man to be trapped that easily. He could see both sides of any question, and in this case he could even see the 2,000 gallons of fuel oil he annually sold Mrs. Snoddy for her furnace.

"Well," he said, "I don't see anything very bad about having Indians dance in the park, if they're orderly; but on the other hand, I do think we have to consider the property owners in that area. I favor tabling things until we can look into it further."

white people." Stalcup almost said, "What's another reason?"

"Frankly, we thought it would be good publicity for the town. Tourists, you know. That sort of thing."

"Tourists?" Brown grunted. "If it hadn't been for tourists coming out here 150 years ago, we'd have a better country now."

Stalcup gave a phony little laugh. The only honest thing about it, he realized, was how phony it was. "You are still considering our idea?"

"Some of the youngsters are, yes, but the council isn't exactly red-hot on the idea," Brown detailed several reasons why Utes had not found the going satisfactory in a white man's society.

"We'll do our best to avoid those problems," Stalcup promised.

"How many jobs have you got?"

"Seven, so far."

"On the section?"

"No," Stalcup said, in a hurt tone. "Jobs around town, filling stations and—well, various things like that."

"We'll let you know," Brown promised, and hung up.

In front of Whitehorse's clothing store, Stalcup met Luke Chutney, loaded down with writs and attachments designed to start unsavory deadbeats toward debtors' prison.

"When are the Indians coming?" Chutney asked. "Everything's set, I suppose?"

"Not quite. We need a few more jobs, Luke."

Stalcup went on toward Holzapfel's garage. He thought: If one more, just one more, bigmouth asks me how the Indian program is coming, I'll punch him right in the teeth.

Two more people asked him before he had gone another half block. And he didn't punch either one of them.
